ICKES CLAIMS PRIVATE FIRM HINDERED PWA

Accuses Willkie of Trying To Bribe Organization

WASHINGTON — There is a grim story behind the mounting expenditures for relief, which this month will reach a total of $170,000,000. This sum goes to a total of 2,500,000 on the Federal relief rolls, which means a 500,000 increase since February.

This $170,000,000 total is almost $100,000,000 more than WPA was spending last October, and graphically illustrates what has happened in the country since business went into the autumnal nose-dive.

Every month since then, as the recession has deepened, demands for WPA aid have mounted. Here are the figures:

WPA expenditures: November, $97,300,000; December, $114,500,000; January, $118,900,000; February, $135,000,000.

WPA relief rolls: November 1, $20,000; December 1,629,000; January 1,900,000; February 2,009,000.

Emergency Grant

The big step-up to $170,000,000 in March was made possible by the recent "emergency grant" of $250,000,000. This was an emergency grant in every sense of the word. Without it relief rolls would have been held down to around $80,000,000 a month—or about one-half what they are in March.

Two factors to be kept in mind regarding relief during the next few months are:

1. The decline in unemployment has leveled off, but at the same time, few men already unemployed are finding new jobs. So with savings depleted, more are being added to the relief rolls.

2. In addition to WPA relief, which is supplied by the Federal Government, States, cities and counties are bearing a heavy burden, namely about 1,900,000 men at a cost of $50,000,000 monthly.

To lighten this load, WPA has absorbed 500,000 of these local jobs during the last two months. But demand for aid is so great that this 500,000 hole in the local rolls now has been filled by a rush of 700,000 more jobless.

Beard of Polo Russell A. of Ashton, Roy E. of Dixon and Bert R. of Evansville, Wis.

Diorite Quarries

6000 Years Old

Found In Egypt

Cairo, Egypt, March 10.—(AP)—Diorite quarries worked when the tyrant Pharaoh Cheops made the Great Pyramid between 5,000 and 6,000 years ago have been found.

The Egyptian antiquities department announced today that the workings, about a quarter of a mile long, had been discovered last month under sands that had buried them since 1700 B. C.

They were found in an un-surveyed part of the desert near the Sudan frontier by an expedition led by two Britons, G. W. Murray and E. Englebach.

MISSISSIPPIANS WILL VISIT THIS CITY FOR A DAY

200 Boosters Traveling in Special Train To Be Here July 17th

Residents of this city will have an opportunity to display Dixon hospitality to a group of 200 residents of the state of Mississippi who will visit the city Sunday, July 17. Mayor William V. Slothrop announced today when a special train bearing the visitors will spend the day here.

Dennis Murphree, ex-governor of Mississippi, will be one of the distinguished guests on the "Know Mississippi Better" special train. General chairman Murphree in a communication to Mayor Slothrop outlines the purposes of the visit as follows:

"Naturally, our main incentive is to see the many wonderful things in Dixon, but at the same time, we would, indeed, be happy to have the opportunity of meeting you and some of the others of your citizens in Dixon."

"We will have with us a car containing a comprehensive exhibit of the products grown and manufactured in this state and would be glad to have you and your friends see this car during the time we spend in Dixon."

Forwards Invitation

Mayor Slothrop has forwarded an invitation to Chairman Murphree in behalf of the citizens of Dixon to spend the day here as guests of the city. President Charles E. Miller of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, who at present is vacationing at Hot Springs, Ark., will meet with the mayor upon his return and outline a program of entertainment for the guests on the day of their visit.

The "Know Mississippi Better" special tour has been conducted annually for 13 years. It has traveled 90,000 miles under the same management and has visited 425 towns and cities, has entered Canada on seven tours and Mexico four times. The tour is planned as a good will journey telling the world about Mississippi's opportunities and resources and seeking information about the accomplishments of the communities visited. Accompanying ex-governor Murphree on the tour will be Dr. Felix J. Underwood, state health officer; J. C. Holtom, commissioner of agriculture of Mississippi; and W. F. Bond, chairman of the Mississippi welfare administration.

Norris, known as the "father of the TVA," heretofore had demanded that the Federal trade commission conduct any hearing on the policies which have created disputes among the agency's three directors.

Having failed completely to prove his case in the courts, Mr. Willkie, now in effect, asks us to "conspire" with him and to refuse to carry out our obligations to the cities in order that he may negotiate with TVA."

Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) agreed

meanwhile, to support a congressional inquiry into the Tennessee Valley Authority, providing none of its opponents is appointed to the investigating committee.

Already farmers in some of the more seriously-infested states have mobilized. Committees are being organized to direct the spreading of poison bait, provided by the government and co-operating states, on a county-township-community basis.

The prevalence of heavy egg deposits this year—as many as 7,000 eggs were found in a square foot of soil in Iowa—was attributed by entomologists to favorable weather late last summer and fall.

In Illinois, however, W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of the state university, said that while the northern three-fourths of the state is quite generally infested, eggs were less abundant as compared with last year.

An investigation by friends of the TVA would be worse than useless," declared Bridges. "I think the inquiry should be made by a committee representative of all viewpoints."

Bridges and King agreed to confer with Norris today on the method of making an investigation.

St. Louis, March 10.—(AP)—Ralph Goodman laid his razor aside, reached for a towel and for the first time in years experienced a "shave" he described as "too close."

The towel pulled a .25 caliber pistol from the table. The gun discharged.

City hospital physicians treated Goodman for a bullet wound in his right leg.

Azusa, Calif., March 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Ethel Helen Troy didn't intend to mention her seven fearful days in a flooded canyon even to her husband—until she discovered today the entire nation had known of her plight.

St. Louis, March 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Ethel Helen Troy didn't intend to mention her seven fearful days in a flooded canyon even to her husband—until she discovered today the entire nation had known of her plight.

"Oh, then he knows all about this flood!" exclaimed Mrs. Troy. "I wasn't even going to tell him."

She was amazed to learn the flood had ravaged five counties, causing $65,000,000 property loss and taking many lives.

Delbert M. Porter was born in Harmon, Ill., April 26, 1876, and passed away March 5, 1938 after a three days illness.

He was the son of John L. and Marinda Frizzell Porter and had always lived in the house in which he was born.

In earlier years he farmed the home place but later devoted his time to poultry raising.

"Dob," as he was commonly known, was of a quiet unassuming nature, finding enjoyment in his own little sphere.

Funeral services were held from Harmon M. E. church and interment was at Greenwood cemetery in Harmon.

NATURE AS USUAL OUTDISTANCES FARM PROGRAMFails To Wait For Distribution of Allotments

Washington, March 10—(AP)—Agriculture department officials say they are being outdistanced by the weather.

They had hoped to put the new farm program in operation before planting time for most spring crops. Unusually mild weather, however, has advanced the planting season by weeks.

In many sections of the south, these officials said, farmers have planted or now are planting their cotton, rice, corn, potatoes and other spring crops, although individual acreage allotments under the farm program have not been officially determined except in a few cases.

Similarly, spring wheat seeding they said, is under way in portions of the northwest—ahead of determination of wheat acreage allotments. Oats and other spring grain and feed crops, acreages of which fall under soil-depleting acreage allotments—as yet undetermined for most farmers—also have been or now are being planted.

Officials said they were working "at top speed" and hoped to have all acreage allotments out within a few weeks. They said congressional delay in enacting the new farm law put them at a disadvantage. The measure did not become a law until the middle of February.

The program provides for deductions from, or as in the case of cotton, denial of benefit payments to growers who overplant allotments.

MARQUETTE U. TRACKMEN ENTER CENTRAL MEET

Milwaukee, Wis., March 10—Encouraged by their surprisingly strong showing in the renewal of the Illinois relays last week end, Marquette university trackmen will invade South Bend, Ind., Friday night, for the twelfth annual Central collegiate conference championships in the Notre Dame university fieldhouse.

Preliminary events will be held Friday night, and the finals, Saturday afternoon. Marquette, as usual, will be host to the outdoor C. C. C. championships here, Friday night, June 10.

While Coach Conrad M. Jennings' Hilltoppers failed to win any firsts in the Illinois carnival, they picked up a handsome assortment of seconds, thirds and fourths and indicated that their early-season potentialities will yet be realized.

Enters Large Squad

Jennings will enter a large squad in the indoor Centrals. In the sprints alone, he will have Sophomores Maynard Black, Harry Kimball and Charles Beaudry, and one vet, Johnny Callahan.

Bob Shurilla, another sophomore, will compete in the high and low hurdles, while four more newcomers will be entered in the middle-distance.

Brain TwizzlersBy PROF. J. D. FLINT*Horner Personally Inspects Building Needs; Illinois U

Springfield, Ill., March 10.—(AP)—Governor Horner left for Champaign today to make a personal inspection of the University of Illinois' building needs.

He planned to confer with President Arthur Cutts Willard and other officials about the replacement of University Hall, the recent abandonment of which reduced classroom space.

Since the university has conceded it cannot construct buildings out of its contingent appropriations, it was assumed that any new construction would require a legislative appropriation, presumably at the special session expected after the April primary.

When the university failed to itemize its budget during the 1937 legislative session, the governor vetoed the appropriation items for new construction.

FORMOSA, ONCE PIRATE LAIR, RICH ISLAND

More Convenient Approach From China Shore

Formosa, recent target of Chinese air forces, is within easy reach of China, of which it was a part until ceded to Japan as a war indemnity in 1895. It lies about 90 miles east of the Chinese mainland, within a day's boat ride of Hong Kong. Japan is at least four times as distant; the convenient port of Kobe is 900 miles northeast.

The United States, a whole Pacific away, nevertheless has a mild next-door-curiosity about Formosa, which is immediately north of the Philippine Islands and similar to them in some ways," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Once Pirate Lair

The island, shaped like a rose leaf, is 100 miles wide and only two and a half times as long. In area, however, it slightly exceeds the State of Maryland, with four times the population of that State. "Taiwan," the name meaning "teraced bay" and previously applied to the port of Anping, has been adopted as the island's title under Japanese sponsorship. The change has not yet entirely ousted the name of Formosa. This has lasted since land-hungry Portuguese sailors in 1590 sighted snow-tipped purple peaks rising beyond its green plains, and called it "Ilha formosa," the beautiful isle.

"On closer approach, however, Europeans found the beauty barbed. Hopeful traders from Spain and The Netherlands settled there while the Pilgrims were making their way into New England. Hostile native and invading pirates drove them out. Both Chinese and Japanese pirates made the island their lair for ambushing ships on the rich oriental trade routes.

Headhunters Still Active

Deadliest of all dangers were the aborigines, whose tribal code called for headhunting as proof of manhood. A bleached skull of an enemy exposed on his cottage wall is still the Formosan mountaineer's substitute for an ornamental flower pot in the window. Community bamboo racks airing scores of skulls have long been monuments to the valor of a village. These grisly proofs of the murder of rival warriors explain why men used to be outnumbered by women in native groups. Even monkeys lost their heads to this most dangerous of collecting fads.

"Barbed wire, further fortified with electricity, now keeps the headhunters in their place. Japanese efforts to subdue headhunting have pushed the savages farther and farther north into Formosa's mountainous interior. A track cleared of underbrush and in many places barbed with wire constitutes the famous Guard Line by which Japanese authority marks the limits of headhunters' trespassing on subdued territory. At intervals patrols in pairs in bamboo shacks stand watch over the line to forestall any stealthy murderous raids into civilization. Guards know that for slackening of vigilance they may pay with their own heads."

The Savage Territory is being pushed back year by year, because it contains most of the valuable forests which cover two-thirds of Formosa. Most valuable of Formosa's trees is the rich growth of camphor forest, most extensive in the world. Wood of the camphor tree is chipped into small pieces and is distilled at Taihoku, the country's capital.

"The capital, at the northern tip, is a well-kept city of a quarter-million inhabitants. With parks and museums and banks, it has progressed far from the days when grim gates and a stout city wall were its only defense from raids of headhunters.

"Passing slow water buffalo dragging primitive carts, express trains speed from Taihoku throughout the western plain country dotted with rice and sugar cane plantations and neat villages. "A Chinese miner from California in 1890 struck it rich, when he found the most productive gold mine on Formosa. Silver, copper,

COOKING TEACHER REMINDS HOSTESS OF MARCH HOLIDAY

Season Brings Time For O'Brien Potatoes And Shamrock Parties

BY EMILY LAUTZ

February holidays may be superior in numbers, but this month marches around with one of the year's favorite holidays.

Shure and 'tis March 17 that is an open invitation to dinners, luncheons and entertaining for children and grown-ups. No-one has to think up a color scheme and few hostesses have to study over a grass-green menu. Saint Patrick would be a mighty proud saint if he could see all the parties planned in his honor.

Bakeries and candy shops lend first-aid to the hostess with their bright green wares and favors and table decorations are easy to make or find. Among the foods that dress up the St. Patrick's Day party are green cherries, tinted cheese spreads, olives, pickles, stuffed celery, as well as green vegetables, fresh mint or mint jelly with the meat course, and plenty of salad greens, for "S" stands for salad, too.

Decorative Effect

The decorative effect of a St. Patrick's party is aided by investment in a shamrock cutter for cookies and sandwiches, a tube of pure green vegetable coloring, and an ample supply of lime jelly and green cherries. Lime-flavored gelatin is a colorful help in planning your party, for it may be used as the basis of a fruit or a vegetable salad, shaped in individual molds.

For a bridge party spread, or the children's party, nothing is finer than open-faced shamrock sandwiches. Cottage or cream cheese may be lightly colored with vegetable coloring. Use white, whole-wheat, or gingerbread for the shamrock treats.

Spread the bread with any one of these fillings: Chopped minted cherries, cream cheese flavored with crushed pineapple, chopped nut meats, chopped candied ginger, chopped candied orange, cream cheese mixed with finely chopped watercress, or tender sprays of watercress in thin wholewheat sandwiches. Garnish with nut meats and halves of minted cherries.

The Emerald Isle salad is an open invitation to use that attractive wooden bowl, unless it is serving as a table centerpiece, heaped with green fruits and vegetables. Cucumber slices are effective in the St. Patrick's salad, as are cubes of green pickle. For color add tiny sliced radishes, tomatoes, sliced raw carrot and a sprinkling of paprika. Watercress and celery also are needed.

Gelatine Fruit Salad

If the choice is a gelatine fruit salad, a combination of cherries with lime gelatine is most effective. Prepare one package of lime-flavored gelatin as directed on the package. In a greased salad mold, arrange one cup dark red sweet cherries, pitted, and one cup white sweet cherries. Pour part of the gelatin mixture over the fruit and allow it to become firm before filling the remainder of the mold. This will hold the fruit in place. Chill and when ready to serve, unmold on a bed of lettuce and garnish with green minted cherries. Serve with cottage cheese and mayonnaise. Cream or cottage cheese also may be molded with the fruit in this salad.

Shamrock Salad is another appropriate choice for a March 17 feast. This features stuffed green peppers. Remove seeds from four green peppers and parboil for five minutes. Chill. Stuff solidly with which tints a lovely shade of green with a few drops of vegetable coloring.

Lime Juice Cocktail

Although the meal may be introduced with stuffed celery, olives and shamrock canapes, a lime juice cocktail blends with the color scheme and is a grand appetizer. Prepare in this way:

Two tablespoons each lime juice, orange juice, sugar syrup, crushed ice and two-thirds cup ginger ale. Shake ingredients thoroughly and pour over crushed ice in small glasses. This also may be garnished with a green cherry.

The St. Patrick's dinner hostess, of course, will serve stuffed baked potatoes, fluffed back in their shell and decked with a spring of parsley. Or how about O'Brien potatoes, which call for the addition of grated cheese and strips of green pepper to the cream sauce in which diced boiled potatoes are baked.

That rounds out the menu, with the exception of dessert, when an "Ireland Sherbet" is in order, served with shamrock cookies. Butter shamrocks and other cookies, straight from the Emerald Isle, will be found in the column.

Of course, the hostess who would be truly consistent will just forget about canapes, salads and sherbets, and serve a genuine Irish Stew, steaming hot, with fluffy dumplings. Why not?

Ancient Chinese torturers discovered that a man becomes insane after the fifth or sixth day of sleeplessness and dies after 10 days of no sleep.

Instead of topping off the meal with Irish mints and salted nuts, serve candied grapefruit rind, a commercial scale.

IN BOTH DIRECTIONS

Recently Washington has taken pride in the breaking of precedents. We should say that it has made a record of some kind in the number of times it has ridden a horse away in both directions at one time.

It is reported that Representative Thurston of Iowa has made his annual address to the congress in opposition to spending hundreds of millions of dollars to bring new land into cultivation while paying out other hundreds of millions annually to farmers for taking good land out of cultivation. We take it, from the account of his address that as soon as the new land comes into cultivation the farmer becomes eligible for benefit payments under the soil conservation theory.

"There could be no more highly contradictory policy than to restrict farm land in one section of the country and to use public funds, partly contributed by farmers, to bring new land into cultivation in another section.

"In the semiarid sections of the country, where the population is quite sparse, there is not adequate demand for these additional crops, and increased production greatly interferes with the prosperity and the well-being of the farmers who are already engaged in farming in these particular sections. There are many thousands of foreclosures now pending in the semiarid districts where it is proposed by this bill to create more farms.

"Why should these people be harassed and annoyed with additional production when they are unable to obtain sufficient income to pay their taxes and the interest on existing legitimate farming operations? It seems to me that the members from those sections would have in mind the welfare of those who elect them to office and who are endeavoring to make a living under these adverse conditions. My appeal to you is based on your duty to follow a fair and sound policy for all the farmers in the country. This program is folly; it is illogical and unsound."

Thurston moved to kill a proposed appropriation of $900,000 for what is known as "the Gila project" in Arizona. His motion was defeated without a roll call.

So, we go merrily on in both directions, throwing millions here to offset millions thrown there.

OF INTEREST TO JAPANESE

When the two pioneers in the Garden of Eden ate the apple, that act caused them untold misery and economic loss. According to fundamental theologians we still suffer from the effects of that gastronomic experiment. One would think it would have taught one a lesson, but did it?

Applying this theological lesson to warfare, it appears that one not only fails to learn theological lessons, but also is unable to assimilate the lessons of history in regard to military strategy.

Associated Press reporters in China believe the Japanese invaders are in a grave situation because in street parlance, they have bitten off more than they can chew. Japan, by reason of superior discipline and arms, is able to land half a million men in China and hold a restricted area with great ease and little loss. They could even make the area pay largely the expenses of the adventure.

But if they go farther and farther into the country they are forced either to space their men and outposts farther apart, or they are compelled to send reinforcements. To conduct a neat little campaign with maximum gain the Japanese should require no additional men. Their strategical position, with regard to Russia, becomes worse with each additional mile they penetrate. Their shoestring war must not be permitted to grow into a major, life and death struggle.

But the Chinese are hampered by few such considerations. Given munitions and food, with some pretense at pay for troops, they can go on losing 5 men to every 2 lost by the Japanese and pretty soon the Japanese will find their effectiveness wiped out.

Didn't Napoleon march to Moscow sweeping everything before him, and didn't he return with only a corporal's guard of his magnificent host? He swept in and was swept out. To Moscow with 600,000 men. Back home with 25,000. We shall see whether the Japanese ever heard of the Corsican.

JUDICIAL PROPRIETY

Judge J. Earl Major of the United States circuit court of appeals stepped down from his high estate and presided over one side of a democratic brawl in Springfield last week.

It was no discredit to Judge Major that his elevation to his present post was coincident with the burst of enthusiasm Senator Dietrich showed for the president's gill for the massacre of the supreme court of the United States. He was not responsible for that, but his record will be spotless or tainted, according to his own personal conduct.

The constitution makes federal judges independent of politics, politicians, and political issues by fixing their terms of office for life or during good behavior. Some desire to throw them into the political maelstrom where they will have to beg for mercy. Along with the security of tenure, provision is made that compensation of judges may not be reduced during their term of office.

These two provisions were devised to assure independence of the United States courts. They were devised to remove the incumbents from political alliances of offense and defense.

What has been the result of this wisdom and foresight?

The federal judge soon feels the independence the judicial robe gives him. As one who probably has risen through phases of public life, he is not expected to discard all interest in public affairs or small political affairs. Nor does he discard it. Propriety permits him to converse with friends, provided he takes due notice of the proprieties of his office. Upon invitation he may address bar associations upon trends in the law and in the courts, and may be excused for showing some temper on such occasions.

So far as we can recall in more or less constant observation of conduct of judges of United States courts, this is the first time we have noted one of them presiding over a factional party contest, or any political contest.

Perhaps the New Deal has set new standards for the federal judges.

The difference between a federal judge and a judge of state courts is that the one is the product of a law designed to keep him out of politics and the other is the creation of a law that plunges him into politics.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEEDING THE HUNGRY

Text: Mark 6:30-44
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D.

Editor of Advance

Our lesson presents one of the strangest, and at the same time, one of the most fascinating stories, of all history. It is the story of the feeding of the multitude, or as it is sometimes called "the feeding of the five thousand," because the closing verse of the lesson indicates that that was the number who ate of the loaves and fishes.

When Jesus had gone apart with His disciples in the desert in the hope that they might have a quiet rest and an opportunity for communion with one another, there were so many—we are told—coming and going that Jesus and the disciples had no leisure to eat. But they were not to escape from the multitude, even though they went away in a boat seeking a desert place where they might land.

The people saw them going, and followed them along the shore, so that instead of being alone with His disciples, Jesus found Himself confronted with a great multitude.

Instead of resenting their invasion on His privacy, He had great compassion on them, for He saw them as sheep without a shepherd.

As He began to teach them, the day lengthened and the disciples became visibly troubled. They came to Jesus, reminding Him that the place was a desert place, and that night was coming on. They urged Jesus to send the people away that they might go back to the village and buy themselves something to eat.

But Jesus answered, "Give ye if we had the spirit of Jesus and them to eat," and to the amazed disciples, commanded that they should have the people sit down by companies—even though the only available food seemed to be five loaves and two fishes. After they had eaten, they gathered up 12 baskets of broken pieces that remained.

How shall we account for so remarkable a story and what are the lessons we may derive from it? The chief lesson to be derived from it is plain in its symbolism in the abundant provision for the need of mankind in Jesus, the Bread of Life.

Various efforts to explain the story have been made, but of course if a miracle could be "explained," it would be no miracle. One common explanation is that many people had actually brought lunch with them, and when the five loaves and the two fishes were brought forth, those with food also produced it so there was enough for all. Such efforts to explain the miracle seem trivial and useless. We either accept the story as strangely and miraculously true, or we accept it as a beautiful tradition in the story of Jesus that probably has some real foundation in fact; or we do not seek in any way either to explain or to justify the miracle, but just take the story for its teaching and its symbolism of Jesus as the Bread of Life.

There are of course many lessons that could be drawn for our lives that we might go back to the village and buy ourselves something to eat.

But Jesus answered, "Give ye if we had the spirit of Jesus and Ericsson Club Gives 10-Point Program for G. O. P.

By The Associated Press

The John Ericsson Republican club of Illinois at its 44th annual meeting in Elgin yesterday adopted a 10-point program to guide the party within the state.

A committee headed by Irving F. Pearson, superintendent of Rockford schools, presented resolutions advocating these major points:

Preservation of the American system of constitutional government; restoration of millions of our citizens to remunerative employment; a balanced budget and abolition of useless commissions and bureaus; repeal of the surplus profits tax; a fair treatment and recognition of labor with old age pensions and unemployment insurance based upon sound economic principles and upon a "pay-as-you-go" basis; and a foreign policy that will keep us out of war."

The next convention of the league will be held at Joliet on March 9, 1939, the anniversary of the Civil war battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac.

Floyd E. Olson of Joliet was elected president, succeeding Arnold P. Benson of Batavia. Franklin C. E. Lundquist, Chicago, was elected vice-president; J. Arthur Friedlund, Chicago, was re-elected secretary and Alex G. Erickson, Bloomington, was re-elected treasurer.

Francis J. Plym of Niles, Mich., head of the Swedish-American Tercentenary association, and Rep. James W. Mott of Salem, Ore., were among speakers at the banquet.

At the afternoon session of the league, named after the Civil war engineer who built the Monitor,

State Representative Richard J. Lyons Republican candidate for the nomination for U. S. senator, said the party was pointing to victory. "We're going to be constructive; we're going to show a better way; we're going to give business a chance," he asserted, adding: "We can put the unemployed to work in industry if we are honest with business.... They are looking for the Republican party to lead them out of the wilderness."

At Quincy Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana, seeking the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, said in a campaign address that "bossism" was still the major issue in the party's primary fight.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. At least it shows whether he has grown up enough not to play with his automobile like he did with his toys.

A great many drivers seem to think an automobile is just a big boy's toy—one he can run as he pleases, expecting everybody to get out of his way. It would not be a bad idea to test men drivers to see whether or not they still play with their toys, and women drivers to see if they still play with their dolls. A lot of them act as though they did.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Certainly. All people do, but especially timid people. This is indicated by the fact that twice as many women as men go into the slaughter houses when they visit the stockyards so they can actually see the killing and blood. I think it may be some sort of compensation they feel—that of witnessing terrible destruction which they are not strong and brutal enough to commit themselves.

RAIN OF RUMOR

Denver —(AP)—Somebody started a rumor and the weather bureau switchboard was flooded with dozens of calls.

"When the army air corps school in Denver is opened next week will it bring rain?" the callers asked.

"Decidedly not," replied Albert W. Cook, assistant district forecaster.

The rumor was that when the air corps began practicing with aerial bombs the explosions would cause clouds and bring rain.

Annual Banquet Is Enjoyed By Dixon Ladies of G. A. R.

Dixon Circle, No. 73, Ladies of Grand Army of Republic, held its annual banquet Monday evening in G. A. R. hall. Just 31 years ago Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Emma Petrie and Mrs. Seth Thomas organized the Ladies of G. A. R. with 73 chapter members. They were instituted by Mrs. Van Duzen who was then department president of Illinois.

Dixon circle, she said, was the largest circle instituted in her years.

After a delicious banquet served by the very capable committee of Mrs. Myrtle and Robert Ayres to about 75 members and friends the group was called to order by the president, Mrs. Marie Hettler, who announced the purpose of the meeting.

The following program was given:

History of the Circle—by Past President Dorothy Wernick.

Piano number, Ernest Hettler, Reading, June Rose Kerley.

Piano duet, Ruth Emmert and Alice.

Reading, Sonny Kerley.

Vocal solo by Barry Bonadaoux accompanied by Ernest Hettler.

Poem, composed by Past President Florence Ommen and dedicated to each past president in order of their rank.

Dixon Circle has always been one of the leading patriotic orders of the city and has done much for the members and dependent ones.

After a few minutes of silent prayer for those who have passed on the meeting closed with many compliments and good wishes for many more years of activity.

Kingdom Society Enjoys Meeting

The March meeting of the Kingdom W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Will Floto on Thursday. The morning was spent in visiting and sewing and a very delicious dinner was enjoyed at noon.

The meeting was opened by the society singing the song "Jesus Calls Us." Mrs. Cora Gates gave a prayer and roll call was taken. Wilma Floto gave a short talk on "Going Farther With Our Master in the Far Eastern Countries."

"The Great Gateway of Commerce Going Through India, Russia and China" was the topic of the lesson study which was given by Marion Morris. Mrs. Anna Stevens gave the devotional.

Mrs. Grace Floto gave the prayer partners for the month of March and closed the meeting with a prayer.

Practical Club Met Tuesday Afternoon

Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the Practical club enjoyed a 1 o'clock luncheon at the lovely home of Mrs. W. E. Whitson with 18 members present to participate in the delightful affair.

The members assembled at quartet tables where the hostess, with Mrs. John Byers assisting, served a delicious three course turkey luncheon.

CLUB CHORUS TO REHEARSE

The Dixon Woman's Club chorus will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 1:30 P. M. Saturday for rehearsal, and the director is desirous that all members be present promptly. The chorus is preparing to sing before the club on Saturday, March 26.

Mrs. Rhodes closed her interest written by the poet, Jack Burroughs:

"Beauty bridges by beauty across the stretch of blue"

The opal deeps, the silver span, the ancient and the new.

And far away to westward against a sky of slate

It's etched in ebon outline, the bridge across the Gate."

Our troop has met regularly each week in the office of our captain; but our various scribes have suffered attacks of "writer's cramp" each time a troop report was due. Because of the great demand for news of our troops we have taken a new oath of allegiance to the Telegraph. We spent last evening in working out the details of our part in Scout Week. Musical Club Meets With Mrs. H. Emmert

Mrs. H. Emmert's beginners' class in piano, henceforth to be known as the Four-W's Musical club, met Saturday afternoon at the home of the teacher, 614 College avenue.

"Should a Teacher Show Partiality" was the topic for general discussion. Mrs. Emmert read a paper on the life of Clara Schumann and told of the origin of the flat and natural signs. This was followed by a review of fundamentals and a short lesson in musical history with illustrations to show some of the very first known musical instruments.

An enthusiastically applauded program was then given by Beryl Means, Betty Emmert, Dorothy Lindstrom, Mary Lou and Shirley Williams, Kenneth Esterday, Billy Wadsworth, Hazel Louise Emmert, Gloria Jones, Lois Fritts, Lorita Wilson and Charlotte Emmert. Mrs. Cecile Jones and Mrs. Emmert played a lively piano duet.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ira Williams.

POLICE CLEAR STRIKERS FROM STOVE FACTORY

Final rehearsals are being held tonight for the operetta, "Tune In," which will be given in the high school glee club directed by Miss March 11, at 8:15 P. M. by the high school glee club directed by Miss Carolyn Bergstedt.

The stage has been converted into the sending room of a modern radio station. A loud speaker system has been installed to enable the audience to hear and enjoy the performance from any part of the auditorium. The audience is assured of an evening of amusing entertainment.

AMOMO CLASS

ENJOYS PARTY

The losers of the contest in the Amomo Sunday school class of the First Baptist church entertained the winners at a delightful party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ryan. Several games appropriate to St. Patrick's Day were played and then the "winners" were sent on a "sleuth hunt" which caused much merriment. Tasty refreshments were served and after a social hour the guests departed expressing their appreciation for an evening of real fun.

TOWNSEND APPEALS TO SUPREME COURT TO ESCAPE PRISON

Washington, March 10—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pension advocate appealed to the Supreme Court today in an effort to escape a 30-day jail sentence imposed for contempt of a special House of Representatives committee investigating his plan to pay elderly persons $200 a month pensions.

The United States district court which tried him on the contempt charge, ordered him to pay a $100 fine and serve the jail term.

His petition contended that the district court for the District of Columbia had improperly refused to permit him to introduce evidence explaining why he had walked out on the committee while it was investigating the Townsend plan.

The United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia affirmed his conviction by a two to one vote.

When he left the committee room on May 21, 1936, Townsend explained he was taking that action "in view of the apparent unfriendly attitude" of the legislators.

There were 900,000 more private automobiles on the roads of Britain in 1937 than in 1928.

LODGE NEWS

MINNIE BELL LODGE

Hatboro, Pa., March 10—(AP)—State police today patrolled entrances to the Roberts and Manders stove factory, cleared of sit-down strikers by non-striking workmen armed with clubs and tear gas.

Inside the plant, officials sought to determine the damage caused by a pitched battle last night in which a score were injured.

Leaders of both the back-to-work movement and the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, a C. I. O. affiliate, considered throwing picket lines about the plant.

The disorders grew from sporadic fist fights outside the gates to a pitched battle for possession of the plant.

Bricks were hurled by several hundred workmen and townspersons who marched on the plant. The sit-down strikers retaliated with heavy flint pebbles.

Declaring that many roads already reorganized once would have to go "through the wringer again," Wheeler said in an interview that unless the carriers eliminate much of their top-heavy capital structure they can not hope to escape some form of public ownership.

He said that in future reorganizations the ICC should have power to fix a limit on the capital obligations a road could carry. Some worthless stock, he said, would have to be scrapped. Bonds in many cases would have to be exchanged for stock on which a road would pay dividends when it could afford them.

At present, Wheeler added, fixed interest and dividends are costing many roads millions of dollars which they can ill afford to pay.

Wheeler's plan for strengthening I. C. C. regulation of railroad financing will be one of many submitted to Mr. Roosevelt.

Some informed persons said the conference would provide chiefly an exchange of ideas.

STATE TREASURY BALANCE HITS AN ALL-TIME RECORD

Springfield, Ill., March 10—(AP)—

Unemployment insurance funds sent to Washington boosted the state treasury's balance past the $100,000,000 mark today, setting an all-time record.

The March 1 report by Treasurer John C. Martin showed for the first time a $30,000,000 item representing United States treasury certificates in the unemployment trust fund.

The payroll taxes, which didn't clear through the state house at all, under the new job insurance act are sent to the Federal Social Security board, with the treasury certificates showing they are on the books at Washington to the credit of Illinois.

Exclusive of all trust funds, the treasury had a balance of $70,738,118, an increase of nearly $5,000,000 during February, when receipts of $16,131,852 were compared with disbursements of $12,158,874.

Martin listed February revenue as follows: Retail sales tax, $5,598,007; utility tax, $7,974,422; gas tax, $2,595,835; motor vehicle tax, $3,975,673; direct property tax, $38,924; inheritance tax, $517,080; liquor taxes, $605,749; insurance fees and taxes, $10,323; corporation fees and taxes, $111,726; interest on state funds, $10,873; federal aid to roads, $371,707; federal aid to old age assistance, $1,046,875; miscellaneous fees, $448,654; trust funds, $627,713.

France honors its gastronomic heroes and heroines. In a village near Grasse is a monument to the inventor of Peach Melba; the discoverer of Camembert has a statue at Vimoutiers; while Madame Pouillard, the famous omelette maker, is enshrined at Mount St. Michel.

The cost of the Washington monument was $1,300,000.

Day by Day Lessons for Reading During Lenten Season

Read St. Matthew 15:21-28.
And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of those borders, and cried unto him saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

This woman had come to our Lord as many still come to our mission dispensaries in the East; just to get help for her child. But His dealings with her show us His way of winning a response from those who, though ignorant, seem to have a capacity of learning.

Our Lord is not only the great Physician; He is the great Teacher. Let us never think He was hard on this poor woman. If we had been there, we should have seen the meaning of the delay in His face, and in hers. Something in His face keeps her at His feet even while His words repel. And in her face He sees the dawning of a new light.

He longs to bring out the very best in us; the good that no one else sees or knows.

O Lord and Lover of our souls, please go on teaching us, even when we don't quite understand. "Gestures" of friendship are the devil's invention. When Jesus held out His hand He offered His whole self.

Woodring Speaks at Chicago Club Meet

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—Cordial business relations with the world constitute a major weapon in national defense, in the opinion of Secretary of War Woodring.

The preservation of peace and security, he said in a speech last night to the Commercial club, rests upon liberalism in international trade as well as on military and naval establishments.

"Viewing the world scene," he said, "I am deeply convinced that the removal of excessive trade barriers and restoration of the normal processes of international commerce offer the most satisfactory basis for a return to a stable structure of business, of peace, and of Democratic government itself."

"A straight-jacketing of business and loss of individual freedom" would "necessarily result in an assumption of dictatorial powers by the government utterly inconsistent with our American traditions and beliefs."

Declaring no legislation can save the nation from the effects of war abroad, the secretary said it was necessary to "help shape the economic forces of the world in the only mold which can insure peace—genuine liberalism in the regulation of trade movements and equal and non-discriminatory commercial treatment."

WEST BROOKLYN LOOP

By Henry Gehant

The seventeenth week of the

C. O. F. bowling tournament ended on last Friday night with the Fox River Oils still clinging tenaciously to the initial position. The Barbers who were expected to give them a close shave on Thursday night, failed to live up to expectations and were humbled by a three to nothing count. The Royal Blues were reduced to slightly deeper shade on Monday and dropped two more racking games to the Cubs, who have been creating considerable excitement in the lower bracket of the league by the stiff competition they have been handing out of late. O. L. Gehant, Jr. turned in a high score for the week and second high for the season, when he carded a neat 255 against the Tractors on Wednesday night. Results of the various encounters are found below:

Non-High School Board of Education Met Here Recently

Mrs. A. Tilton, Phone 1891

The non-high school board of education consisting of William Nagle, Woosung; Charles E. Davis, Davis Junction; and Perley Cross, Ashton, met March 4 at the office of County Superintendent of Schools W. L. Pickering.

All high school tuition claims for the school year 1937 were paid in full. The following were the per capita costs of pupils attending the various high schools:

Ashton $138.39
Creston 261.72
Dixon 118.12
Forreston 100.17
Kings 323.55
Kishwaukee 201.47
Leaf River 147.11
Monroe Center 151.96
Mt. Morris 113.97
Oregon 125.27
Polo 132.87
Rockford 110.00
Rochelle 152.15
Shannon 145.20
Stillman Valley 123.06

The total amount of tuition paid by the non-high school district for the last school year ending June 30, 1937 was $48,849.25. There were 341 non high school pupils enrolled in the various high schools. The average per capita cost was $143.25.

The non high school district pays no transportation costs. Busses operating in non high school territory do so at the cost of the local districts operating them. This cost is figured on a pupil basis and must be deducted from the claim.

All high school claims were audited by Ganger & Diehl, certified public accountants of Rockford.

Annual Inspection Is Made By County Nurse

Miss Helen A. Stonick, Ogle county nurse, has made her annual inspection in Oregon grade school.

Due to the fact that so many pupils were absent because of illness the work of inspection will be continued after the present epidemic of measles has abated. Many defects among the pupils were found of teeth, throat and eyes. Cooperation of the parents is necessary in correcting these defects which will greatly benefit the children in their school work.

The diphtheria and vaccination program will probably be held next month.

Miss Stonick and her assistant, Miss Martha Wilfong, were in Leaf River Monday where 139 children received their first immunization for diphtheria, administered by Dr. H. E. Bowerman of Leaf River with Miss Stonick assisting. Tuesday morning 61 children of Monroe Center school were immunized. Thursday the county nurse and local doctors of Mt. Morris will administer toxoid to the pupils of the grade school there.

Miss Stonick will be the speaker at the Parent-Teacher association meeting at the Cyclone school in Pine Rock school Friday night.

CALLAHAN ILL. MAY NOT PLAY FIRST ROUND

Sharpshooters To Play Belvidere at 7:30 P.M.

Facing the possibility of playing against Belvidere in the first round of the sectional tournament at 7:30 p.m. tonight without the services of Eddie Callahan, the main spring of their offense, Dixon high's Sharpshooters squared their jaws with more determination than ever to upset their N.C.I. rivals and advance into the semi-finals.

Callahan has been indisposed the last three days with a slight attack of intestinal flu, and while he is getting along nicely it was not known today whether he would be able to play. If Dixon survives the first round, he is expected to be in shape for action in the semi-finals against the winner of the Polo-Freeport tilt.

Champions Advance

Two regional champions advanced in first round competition at the Rockford armory last night. Warren, surprise conqueror of Freeport in the regional finals, rallied twice to defeat Mt. Carroll's fast team, 43-31. Warren trailed, 12 to 4, in the first quarter but opened up with a bombardment of buckets to overtake Mt. Carroll in the last period and forged on to victory. Rockford was held to its smallest total point aggregate since it defeated Belvidere, 28 to 4, early in the season in its game with Mr. Morris' unexpected strong Mounders. Mt. Morris trailed, 14 to 3 in the first period, shaved the Rab lead to 19-9 at half time and 23 to 11 at three quarters, and outscored the Seven champs, 9-5, in the last quarter.

Warren and Rockford will now clash in the semi-finals at 7:30 p.m. Friday, and tonight Dixon meets Belvidere at 7:30, to be followed by the game between Polo's speedy Apostles, and Freeport's Pretzels at 8:30 p.m.

Dixon fans at home can learn quarter by quarter results by calling the Evening Telegraph office between 8 and 9 p.m.

IN 1543, Copernicus came forth with the startling news that the sun was the center of our particular system, and that the apparent motion of the stars was due to our own rotation on our axis. Today we know this to be true, and day by day we come to realize more and more what a small object our tiny world is in the universe.

Administration Building At State Hospital to Be Occupied by Staff Monday

Is First of Building in New Program to Be Completed

The first of the new buildings to be constructed under the $1,250,000 improvement program at the Dixon state hospital, will be occupied Sunday, when the staff and office force will vacate the present office building and move into the beautiful new administration building. Practically all of the furnishings and equipment have been received and installed and the removal of the records is now under way.

The building program has provided 13 new structures on the institution grounds which are the most modern to be found in the country. Of the total amount expended, $500,000 represented a federal grant under the Works Progress Administration program. All of the new buildings are expected to be completed and furnished, ready for occupancy by May 1.

At present the Dixon institution provides beds for 3,365 patients and the new buildings will provide additional accommodations for 1,260 beds, making the total 4,625. Added to this number of patients, members of the staff and employees at the institution will increase the population to more than 5,000.

Present indications point to the completion of an elaborate sewage treatment plant at the institution this summer at an estimated cost of $60,000. When completed, this plant will be far more effective, it is stated, than the system now in use in Dixon. The institution sewage will pass through a secondary or double treatment throughout the year and no institutional refuse or sewage will enter Rock river to cause pollution of the stream.

To Improve Water System

It is also expected that the water system at the institution will be greatly improved during the coming summer and about $50,000 expended in providing an adequate water supply. At present about 500,000 gallons of water are used daily at the institution and it is planned to construct huge reservoirs to materially increase the water storage and provide an adequate supply throughout the summer months when the present plant is taxed. The state architectural department has not decided definitely on the type of increased water supply to be used, but it is planned to increase the well capacity as well as water storage at the institution.

In occupying the new administration building the staff and clerical force at the institution will on Sunday move into modern and commodious quarters. All of the administrative offices are attractively furnished with every modern convenience. A beautiful circular corridor inside the main entrance presents a welcome entrance to the building, and from this, halls lead to two wings housing the several administrative offices and departments on the main floor. Public rest rooms are also provided off the main corridor. The telephone switch board, accommodating 300 phones to the institution buildings, is housed in one room. The office of the managing officer, Dr. Warren G. Murray is plainly, but beautifully furnished in black walnut, in the south wing of the building.

The office of Dr. Harry E. Marcellus, assistant managing officer is in the north wing. A staff room with desk space for 20 physicians occupies the width of the north wing, this large room having been finished with a special acoustical plaster to eliminate unnecessary sound.

Record Storage

The basement of the building provides storage space for office supplies in one section, while in another files for clinical records for a period of 50 years may be stored. The active clinical files will be stored on the main floor. Another spacious room is provided for the stenographic force of 12 members. In the construction of this building fire resistant materials have been used throughout. The style of architecture followed admits ample natural light and the electric fixtures are of the latest design, and are most attractive.

The old administration building is to be immediately converted into a male receiving ward. A similar ward is now in service on the "B" section of the institution grounds for the reception of females.

Another of the new buildings which is now almost completely occupied, is the nurses home on the south section of the grounds. This two story structure with basement, provides residence quarters for 80 registered nurses and women attendants. Bath rooms, toilets and lounging parlors are provided for the comfort of the residents. The basement provides a class room for women attendants where courses of instruction will be given by the staff physicians. To another section of the basement the institution commissary, a highly important department, will be moved Sunday from its present location in the old administration building. The proceeds from the commissary have been of great benefit to the institution, providing sufficient funds for the institution band and orchestra, as well as for all recreational advantages including baseball, soft ball, basketball, moving picture shows and equipment for the entertainment of both patients and employees.

Age Classification

The building on the "B" side, which has been used as an employees' headquarters, now is used for the female receiving ward. The incoming patients are separated as to ages, one department being set aside in one wing for females of six years and under, and the other for the teen age females.

Included among the new buildings for the housing of female patients, is a new type structure for the care of mental deficient types of patients, or jail ward for uncontrollable females. The windows of this building have heavy steel embedded in the glass throughout. Quarters for female attendants are provided inside the entrance and both wings are entered through heavy steel barred doors. The patients confined in this building will occupy cell rooms in which a bed and small dresser will be the only furnishings. The electric lights are built into the high ceilings of each room.

Glass Enclosed Porch

The walls are of rough brick, which is to be painted, and the floors of cement. Across the south end of the building is a long glass enclosed porch, and numerous shower and tub baths and toilets are provided. The basement of the female detention building is equipped to provide a large hand laundry, where the inmates will be employed throughout the day. This building, now nearing completion, will supply a long felt want at the institution where incorrigible females have caused numerous outbreaks.

Four new cottages are nearing completion on both the "A" and "B" sections of the property. These new cottages are so constructed that they form a quadrangle and patients will be housed and fed in the cottages in which they reside. This will eliminate the marching of inmates from the cottages to central dining halls throughout the year. Each of the cottages is equipped with a large lounging room at the entrance with the wards located in the wings. In the cottages for males, 60 beds will be accommodated in each wing, or a total of 120 in the new buildings. Cafeterias have been built into the male wards, the food being brought from the central kitchens at each meal time and served to the inmates at the cafeteria at one end of the spacious dining hall.

In the cottages for female patients the food is to be served from kitchens but this system may later be changed to the cafeteria system. Each cottage will be equipped with table service for the patients and the kitchens are equipped with steam tables, electric dish washers, electric refrigerators and large coffee urns, with storage places for dishes and other equipment.

Age Classification

The building on the "B" side, which has been used as an employees' headquarters, now is used for the female receiving ward. The incoming patients are separated as to ages, one department being set aside in one wing for females of six years and under, and the other for the teen age females.

Included among the new buildings for the housing of female patients, is a new type structure for the care of mental deficient types of patients, or jail ward for uncontrollable females. The windows of this building have heavy steel embedded in the glass throughout. Quarters for female attendants are provided inside the entrance and both wings are entered through heavy steel barred doors. The patients confined in this building will occupy cell rooms in which a bed and small dresser will be the only furnishings. The electric lights are built into the high ceilings of each room.

Glass Enclosed Porch

The walls are of rough brick, which is to be painted, and the floors of cement. Across the south end of the building is a long glass enclosed porch, and numerous shower and tub baths and toilets are provided. The basement of the female detention building is equipped to provide a large hand laundry, where the inmates will be employed throughout the day. This building, now nearing completion, will supply a long felt want at the institution where incorrigible females have caused numerous outbreaks.

TWO EGGS IN ONE

Tulsa, Okla.—(AP)—Every second day, regularly as the clock, the three-year-old Leghorn hen of Louis Buck lays an egg with a double yolk.

That's just in the spring, however. When summer comes shell start laying regular eggs. At least, that's the way it has been in the past.

in the Hull ruling during discussion of the State Department Appropriation bill.

"Why don't you permit these young men to come home occasionally so they would have a chance to meet nice American girls?" he asked Assistant Secretary of State Messersmith.

Messersmith promised to give the idea consideration.

"Since the order has been in effect," Bacon inquired, "have you had to ask for any resignations, or has it stopped such marriages?"

"I would say," replied Messersmith meaningly, "that the Department's instructions have had the effect of making men think about the matter."

Fowl and Politics

When you see Senator Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina going to town for the President's reorganization bill, you don't have to rub your eyes to realize that politics still is a very wondrous thing.

Time was—only so recently—when the Senator from South Carolina, once considered Roosevelt's messenger boy, was dead against him on many things.

Among these was the Reorganization Bill, regarding which Jimmy is committee chairman. But now, lo and behold, he has come back into the fold!

Reason for this undoubtedly will be denied by all hands concerned, but take a look at PWA allotments. Some of the folks in South Carolina claim that there is no politics in PWA, but the fact is that when Senator Byrnes was the President's friend he got a fat and juicy PWA allotment of $42,000.00 for a power project on the Santee and Cooper Rivers.

He got this despite the fact that it destroyed one of the greatest game preserves in the Southeast and contributed largely to the resignation of the famous cartoonist, J. N. "Ding" Darling, as head of the Biological Survey. At that time Roosevelt thought more of Jimmy Byrnes than he did of wild fowl and animals.

Some time after this, however, it looked as if wild fowl and animals were one up on the Senator from South Carolina. For the Santee-Cooper project got squeezed out of PWA allotments, and word went out from the White House that the money would have to be voted by Congress.

This, strangely enough, coincided with the era when Jimmy Byrnes was opposing his old friend the President on a lot of things.

But now wild fowl and animals are low on the Presidential list, and Senator Byrnes is up again. For inside word is that an initial grant for the Santee-Cooper project soon will be forthcoming this time from WPA funds. Harry Hopkins will put men to work grubbing brush from the site of the proposed dam and reservoir.

So now Senator Byrnes is pushing the President's reorganization bill.

Chinese Dope

Although Roosevelt Administration sympathies are about 100 percent with China and against Japan in the current conflict, this is no fault of the Chinese Ambassador, suave, star-gazing Dr. C. T. Wang.

When it comes to doing business with Ambassadors, the State Department rates Wang near the bottom of the list, puts Japanese Ambassador Saito near the top.

Some of the trouble in the Far East, it has now leaked out, resulted from either faulty or deliberately deceptive reports which Ambassador Wang sent his government giving the impression, if not the definite promise, that the United States was coming to the aid of China.

Ambassador Wang is so naive that recently he picked a representative who had a prison record to carry out a financial matter for him. The man had merely written to the Embassy expressing his great friendship for China.

Note—The Ambassador has got his government into a New York financial controversy which may be carried with considerable reverberations shortly.

Merry-Go-Round

One of Pierre duPont's private automobiles was smacked by a U. S. mail truck the other day. Pierre, who was not in the car at the time, is refraining from filing a damage claim, "because the publicity would be unfortunate," also because the duPont car was insured.
